“Being Christ to others so that they all may be one.” John 17:21

LATEST NEWS:

Praise and glory to our Lord God! He has seen us through the challenges of a new start up of our ministries in Uganda under the new banner of International Christians in Communion. There have been numerous challenges and we thank God for his direction, and each and every one of you for your support during this process. Many of you were able to meet Aloysius Mugisa while he was in the United States. He had a very busy schedule. We had the pleasure of hosting him for a number of days and were taken by the amount of time he was on the phone with his team in Uganda.

While Aloysius was here meeting with all of us, the leadership team in Uganda were busy with:

Challenge Weekend / Youth

January included a CWE attended by 87 young people.
Some of the participants offered their insights following the weekend:

Immaculate:
Students and Young
Adults ministry
leader

I feel happy to learn that although I am young, I can be an example in speech and behaviour even for people older than me. And that no one should look down on me because I am young.

Ritah

I was reminded that Jesus was a young man when he did great things. I was happy to know that Jesus was my age when he started public ministry. It means I can do great things too.

Bosco

That apart from my earthly parents, I have my real parent, God who is also the parent of my parents. That what my human parents could not provide my real parent God will surely provide.

Belinda

From today forward I will be very careful with the friends I choose. I have had many friends taking me the wrong way. I was foolish to accept what they told me. Everything they told me was wrong.

Tinah

I misunderstood my mother. I thought she was interfering with my freedom and she didn't wish me well. Now I know she has been protecting me from harm. This weekend was for me, I think.

Juliet

I did not really know the damage drugs can do to the brain. I thought they were just recreational. I am so lucky to have been part of this program. It's been so informative. It came to save me I am very grateful to ICIC for this arrangement.

Chriscent

I don't like menial work. I have had rough time over it with my dad. Today my mind set has changed. I was challenged to hear that God the Father is a worker and Jesus is always working like his Father. 'Work is sacred' our teacher has said I have the energy. I am going to work.
